

EMPLOYEE REFERRAL PROGRAM

TPA Benefits, Inc. in San Antonio, Texas is looking for Web Application Developers. Qualified candidates will be analyzing user requirements and defining functional specifications for the Health Portal Solutions; Designing web-based applications using .Net technologies; Developing the GUI and MVC framework; Completing client-side validations for the applications using ASP.Net Web Forms, Razor, C#, Java, MVC, .NET Core and MySQL; Designing the front-end of the application using CSS, Angular, jQuery, Ajax and Bootstrap; Creating and consuming REST and SOAP Web Services, REST APIs and Microservices; Modifying applications to communicate with external APIs and Web Services; Developing stored procedures, functions, triggers and views using SQL; Designing technical enhancement for the applications using AngularJS and/or Bootstrap; Developing and implementing test validations of the applications; Analyzing test results and recommending modifications to the applications to meet project specifications; Integrating the applications into existing systems, cloud platforms and databases; Maintaining version control using Git; Developing advanced reporting structures using SQL queries; Ensuring that the applications are reliable, scalable and comply with HIPAA; and documenting modifications and enhancements made to the applications, systems and databases as required by the project.

Requirements: Bachelor's Degree or foreign degree equivalent in Computer Science, Computer Information Systems, Management Information Systems, Information Technology or Engineering and six months' experience in position or six months' experience in IT field.

Special requirements: Experience with ASP.Net Web Forms, Razor, C#, Java, MVC, .NET Core and MySQL. Travel to various unanticipated client sites required. May reside anywhere in the United States.

To apply, visit <https://www.hpsglobal.net/careers/>